First a lady came in she was really kind. First we did ^{Bike safety} bike safety. We first discussed about making sure its safe to ride your bike. Then we all put are hands up then when the lady calls out somebodys name and we need to show what we need to check before leaving with your bike. She said that when your riding your bike were comfortable cloathes like ~~like~~ pants/legings and T-shirt wich are bright because people need to see you.

padestrian safety

We also discussed about crossing streets and roads. If your walking on the pathway and you see a dammed power line you always need to be eight meteres far.

If you get in a situation that you didn't see it and your all ready there be calm and slowly shuffle back if you runaway the electricity will jump and come with you. And call someone that can fix it. And when your always walking and you need to cross the road you always need to stop look listen and think. And look left and right dont pay any attention to books, phones, and headphones if you do there might be an accident. So we allways need to be safe.

Games and Sound

After that we got to play a game. We needed to listen to the sound and say what it is
